

Early European Land Uses

Topic: Mining

Background Information:

When surveys are conducted of areas proposed for mining within the jarrah forest, indications of European settlement are recorded.

What You Need To Do:

- Research early European land uses in the jarrah forest.
- Brainstorm current land uses.
- Compare the results.

Extension/Alternatives

- What indicators would you expect to find of early European use?
- Prepare a presentation – poster or powerpoint.

Curriculum Links:

English: Writing, Reading

Society and Environment: Investigation, Communication & Participation, Place and Space, Resources, Culture, Time Continuity and Change,

Technology and Enterprise: Technology in Society