

AFS Aichach

Your Innovative Distribution
& Logistics Solution

Alcoa Fastening Systems Aichach

is a top-notch team of enthusiastic professionals with years of experience in supply chain management for the aviation and space industries. From its humble beginnings as AS+C Aviation Supply & Consulting in Germany to its global presence today as part of Alcoa, this is a business you want to know to grow.

We truly view you, our customers, as business partners where we respond to your needs with all-around consultation and solutions which allow you to focus on what you do best – the skillful production, maintenance, overhauling and repair of aircraft, systems, and components.

We are located in the center of Europe... but our business reaches all four corners of the world. We speak the modern language of business and all the many languages and cultures of our customers.

Alcoa Fastening Systems Aichach is uniquely placed to provide outstanding products and service solutions to the global aerospace industry.

As part of Alcoa Fastening Systems (AFS), we represent the industry's No. 1 fastening system designer and manufacturer. AFS was born from many famous historical brands and possesses the broadest range of available aerospace fastener patents. AFS produces over 1.5 million active part numbers and delivers over 1.1 billion parts to aerospace customers each year.

As part of Alcoa, we are supported with the vision, values, and global reach of one of the most respected companies in the world with the capacity to anticipate changing market trends and be where our customers need us to be with innovative service solutions that lead to mission success. Alcoa continues to invest billions of dollars every year in the future of our company, the aerospace industry, and our communities.

"The right products, the right people and programs..."
